

TC Cannabis press

The oil press TC is a machine expressly designed to press and filter the Marijuana oil.

The machine is composed by a vertical supporting structure anchored on a basement plate. The bottle holder for bottles up to 100 ml is positioned on the vertical structure, together with the cylinder of about 100 ml capacity to pour the Marijuana oil. The piston and the related system are positioned on the same structure, together with a manometer to keep the pressure under control.

All parts in contact with the product are made of stainless steel AISI 316 and are easily removable and cleanable. Replacement filters for the cylinder are available.

The machine has a quick and easy operation thanks to the hydraulic system. Moreover thanks to the manometer you can keep under control the operating pressure during preparations.
